

29 March 1949

25X1A

This is in response to your letter of 15 March 1949, addressed to the Director, Central Intelligence Agency.

The bill to which your letter referred unfortunately has no application to those who worked with this Government during the last war. The OSS, to which your letter refers, was abolished in October 1945. I therefore regret to inform you that there is nothing this Agency can do to assist you or your organization in connection with any rights and privileges which may have accrued during the war.

I greatly regret that we cannot be of service to you at this time.

Very truly yours,

Walter L. Pforzheimer
Assistant General Counsel
